

Those Frilly Taffeta Frocks

DESIGNERS just cannot keep away from frills when the season brings in a vogue for taffeta—especially when colors are lively. Taffeta is a sprightly fabric that provides most of its own trimming, and when two-toned, or changeable silks are presented, the trimming effects possible with them are not to be resisted. Even in dark colors and black taffeta, and frills remain cheerful and alluring. In the picture above a light, changeable taffeta at the left and a black, embellished with lace at the right, are among the most pleasing of the new afternoon frocks.

Both these dresses are made with plain underskirts and long tunics. The tunic in the light dress is cut in long panels rounded at the bottom, that recall the much-admired petal skirts of last year. The panels are edged with double frills of the taffeta, but there are no frills on the bodice. Its only decoration appears in a little needle work at each side which extends below the waistline and is repeated on each of the panels. This absence of frills on the bodice makes opportunity for lace or net collar and cuffs. The crushed girdle about the waist is made of the taffeta.

100,000 FORMER SERVICE MEN ARE WITHOUT WORK

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, March 18.—There were 100,000 veterans of the world war out of work in the United States on March 1 last, according to an estimate received by the American Legion. This is a reduction of about 100,000 from the "peak" of more than 200,000 jobless ex-service men in the country shortly after January 1 last, and the Legion reports state there is promise of further improvement.

The survey of the national situation on which these figures are based was made by the American Legion Weekly, official publication of the Legion, which states that the unemployment situation as affecting the veterans "appears to have taken a turn for the better."

A chain of employment agencies operated by the Legion in every state has done much to relieve the situation, say the Legion officials. The Legion has been instrumental in obtaining work for veterans, in discouraging the migration of unemployed men toward the great industrial centers, and has discouraged a movement from cities to the farms. It has demanded that workers who left their positions to go to war should enjoy seniority rights on a par with those of military age who stayed at home.

Ex-service men have suffered more in proportion to their numbers than other workers, according to the Legion's survey, because of the operation of seniority rules and efficiency standards. Nearly a year is required for the returned veteran to get back to his old stride in industry, according to the testimony of large employers of labor. Another thing that has handicapped the ex-soldier is his restlessness and hostile tendencies, both products of the strain and circumstances of his service.

Resurveying of factories and mills in the textile regions of New England and in the mining and industrial centers of Pennsylvania leads observers in those parts to believe the worst is past, according to the Legion's survey. The automobile centers of Detroit, Cleveland and Indianapolis report a slight improvement of conditions. In Chicago conditions are stationary, it is said. Throughout the agricultural middle west a general movement from the cities and towns to the farms is reported. The average ex-soldier had little taste for agriculture when he came back from the war. It was hard to keep him down on the farm after they had "seen Paris." They chose to work in the small factories or stores in the neighboring country seat, where, during 1919, jobs were plenty and wages high. When those jobs began to go there was at first an exodus toward the larger cities. The Legion strove to discourage this. That movement has about spent itself and farmers throughout the west now report little difficulty in getting help, and except in the larger cities there are few able-bodied ex-service men reported out of work in the middle west.

The south reports improvement. Dixie has been burdened with a larger quota of winter dusters than usual this year, according to reports. Some are now finding farm work in the south, others are drifting north, largely to settle on farms.

The Pacific coast, a land where there are the three great seasonal occupations of fishing, lumbering and fruit raising, has been able to decrease the number of jobless veterans by half in two months, according to advices there. In Washington state there were 7000 unemployed veterans on January 1 and 2000 on February 1.

Probably one reason the Russians have not been in a hurry to set up a responsible government is that they would be expected to begin paying their debts.

A Party Frock Girdle.
A ribbon and flower girdle, is one of the daintiest of additions to a girl's party dress, and it can be home-made too. Narrow silver or delicately tinted ribbons are used, and dainty artificial flowers are caught on along the edge. The smaller the flowers the better, such as wee rosebuds, daisies, violets and forget-me-nots. The silver ribbons with pleated edges in color make attractive girdles of this sort. The color of the edge is brought out again in the flowers scattered over the ribbon.

GERMANS STILL USE GUILLOTINE

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, March 18. A grim reminder of the fact that the guillotine still is used in Germany for the infliction of the death penalty is given in the sentencing of Engelbert Manns to die by that instrument for the murder of Edward Golding, an American soldier. Manns killed the American in order to rob him, and was sentenced to death by the German court.

Executions, once carried out in the market places before the populace, are now attended by the prosecuting attorney, the judge before whom the case has been tried, some-
